The greatest enemy of mankind as people have discovered is not science , but war. Science merely reflects the social forces by which it is surrounded. It is found that when there is peace, science is constructive , when there is war, science is perverted to destructive ends. The weapons which science gives us don't necessarily create war, these make war increasingly more terrible. Until now it has brought us to the doorstep of doom. Our main problem therefore is not to curb science but to stop war. This is a job in which everybody must participate including the scientists. But the bomb of Hiroshima suddenly woke us to the fact that we have very little time. The hour is late and our work has scarcely begun. Now we are face to face with this urgent question. " Can education and tolerance, understanding and creative intelligence run fast enough to keep us updated with our own capacity to destroy.” This is the question which needs to be answered one way or the other in this generation. Science must help us in finding the answer, but ultimately the main decision lies within ourselves.

1. According to the author, the real enemy of mankind is not science but war, because
